

Temporary Acoustic Curtains for demolition

Project	Demolition Noise
Industry type	Construction
Client	Lend Lease
Location	Barangaroo South

Initial Project Requirements

Construction Company –Lend Lease, needed sound control for a project at Barangaroo South. Hydro Demolition activities were undertaken, and the noise levels were too high for surrounding stakeholders. Flexshield assisted Lend Lease by providing Temporary Acoustic Curtains (also known as Acoustic Blankets or Sonic Curtains) to surround the site.

Flexshield's Temporary Acoustic Curtains achieve superb levels of noise reduction by combining both sound barrier and noise absorption technologies into the one unparalleled soundproofing product.

The noise level was such that the activity could not continue due to its impact on surrounding stakeholders.

The Flexshield Solution

"Flexshield was used as a noise reduction barrier for Hydro Demolition activities on our Project at Barangaroo. The noise level was such that the activity could not continue due to its impact on our surrounding stakeholders. Flexshield responded to our urgent needs, supplying us with over 100 noise curtains within a couple of days. The work area was encapsulated with the noise curtains, and the Hydro demolition activities were able to continue with the noise effects on the surrounding stakeholders significantly minimised. Thanks, Flexshield for your swift response time and great product."

Acoustic Curtains are available for purchase or hire as a temporary noise barrier. By installing industrial sound blankets, companies can come under all required government regulation, provide safe and enjoyable working conditions and in turn increase efficiency and profits.

Soundproof blankets can be used in both indoor and outdoor applications, are easily cleaned when soiled and are fireproof. Flexshield's Temporary Acoustic Curtains allow for fast and easy installation and can be hung from temporary site fencing and scaffolding. They are very durable and ideal for either short or long term applications.
